POETRY.

SONG.

My heart is my own! I have well withstood
The glances of bright black eyes;
I have gazed unsmiling on sweet languishing blue,
But neither have made me their prize.

My heart is my own! I have dark ripples played
With tresses of soft golden hair;
And many a net have they dark ripples laid,
But none have caught me in their snare.

My heart is my own! I have used to press
Red lips, nor have used to vain;
But none had the charms when the dew was brushed off,
To tempt me to come there again.

My heart is my own! I have, listening, heard
Sweet accents from fairy lips fall;
Each word found a link in a rosy-link chain—
I broke them, and scattered the soft thrall.

My heart is my own! I have freely roved
Mid the brightest and fairest of forms;
Through an ocean of beauty my safe course has lain,
Nor e'er have I met with love's storms.

My heart is my own! Then let others love,
And bewail their forced chains with a groan;
Unfetter'd, unshackled, it still is my own!
A proud one,—My heart is my own!

THE KISSERS—A NEW SECT IN RELIGION.

"All made of passion, and all made of wishes;
All adoration, duty and observance;
All humbleness, all patience, and impatience,
All purity, all trial, all good kissing."

Shakespeare.

I went to church last Sunday—not the richly-cushioned Trinity—not the gorgeous Duane—not the neat St. Thomas—not the fastidious Grace—not the incense burning St. Patrick's. I went to a private family church, which assembles in a private house at No. 1 Sullivan street, on the same independent principle on which Mr. Latourette has created his congregation in the Bowery. At half-past ten I entered a gateway—mounted a stair—opened a door, and found myself in a small neat rectangular room, divided into two parts, with about a dozen ladies, neatly dressed, sitting around a large table with green cloth, at the upper end of the room. I always consider myself in civilized society when I find myself in the presence of colored bonnets, with feathers on one side, or a moss rose on the other.

Around the tables were arranged about a dozen Bibles and Hymn Books. At the upper end, stood a silver cup with two handles—and a slice of common bread on a silver—also a small box with an aperture. Outside the enclosure a number of pews were created, each having also a Bible and Hymn book. Beyond this was a stove to keep the apartment warm. The heathen, the unconverted, and the pretty young girls about twenty years of age, sat outside. I sat among the latter cherubs—as eager, as curious, as simple as the children themselves.

At the proper hour, the Chief of the congregation entered—a tall, good looking paragon. He turned to the left, and after bestowing a kiss on one of the prettiest girls present, (piety has always a natural attraction to pretty faces) took his seat at the upper end of the table. He immediately stood up—read a chapter of the New Testament—and afterwards said, "Men and brethren let us pray." A very good prayer was the consequence. After this was closed, he began a sermon, which was short and sweet. This done, he read a passage from the New Testament, authorizing the "breaking of bread"—then taking up the slice of bread from before him, he broke off a small piece—put it into his mouth—and handed the remainder to his left hand neighbor. The slice then went round the table in this way, each breaking off a small bit, as if it had been wedding cake, till it reached the Administrator, at the head of the table. Another prayer—and another hymn.

The Chief then took up the cup, which was filled with wine—repeated a text of Scripture—put the cup to his lips—tasted it—and then handed it to his right hand man who did the same, going round the table precisely as the bread had done. The bread and wine, it will be observed, goes against the sun.

Another prayer—another hymn—another small discourse—and then came the crowning glory of the whole ceremonies—the "Kiss of Charity." The leader got up and said, "Brethren and sisters, let us according to the Lord's appointment, greet each other with the holy Kiss of Charity." This said, every person, male and female, arranged around the table, kissed each other right and left, men and women—women and men. It was not either a mere dry buss of the cheek—but a regular steam-power smooch, that struck home to the ear most charmingly—a real meeting of lip to lip. I almost said involuntarily—"God I wish I were a communicant for one day, by particular desire—I should take my stand right between those two pretty girls in white feathers and braided hair—but being only a heathen, I sat and mourned among the children, beyond the outer railing as the ancestors of Major Noah did by the rivers of Babylon.

After the kissing operation was closed, the whole church fell to work and sang a pretty psalm of praise for the mercy vouchsafed in that delightful ceremony. It is remarkable that some of the principal ceremonies in every religion are eating, drinking, kissing, embracing, &c. The natural functions of nature are invested with a divinity which do hedge them in for religiousness.

I know not the name of this new sect—but they profess to reject all Catholic—all Protestant doctrines and practices with equal pertinacity. They avow themselves to be actuated as the early Christians were before Christianity became associated with politics—statesmen—emperors—kings, or worldly ambition. They deny any authority from Heaven to build churches or expend money in endowing clergymen. Religion is a matter of domestic use. Every man's house ought to be his church, as it is caste—every man ought to be his own clergyman—every man—every head of a family has a right to take the Bible and form his own creed, and to construct his own ceremonies. Religion, according to this sect, is not a monopoly to be confined to a particular set of men called clergy. They are more intruders upon the natural rights of society, and their conduct too frequently shows the effect of bad association. For sometime past, this independent system of religious association, has been making great progress among us. It is going ahead like steam power. It is a return to original purity. In the first years of Christianity every man's house was his church—and the head of a family the priest thereof. What do parsons and priests by profession, know more than we? We have the Bible—can't we read as well as they?

Such are the opinions of the amiable KISSERS, and we are not sure but they are half right. Would Mr. Latourette introduce this interesting ceremony of kissing into his family Church.—New York Herald.

MR WILLIAMS—THE OCULIST.

Mr Greene—Sir—Mr Williams in yesterday's paper contradicts my assertion, in the paper of the day previous, and brings a certificate to strengthen his cause. The communication from Mr Murdoch will show how the certificate was obtained, and how little confidence is to be placed in Mr Williams's certificates. Mr W. says I asserted that none of the pupils had confidence in him as an Oculist, and gives the lie to the assertion. I said I believed such was the case; I still do so. Mr Murdoch's communication proves that the endeavor to weaken my statement becomes a weapon against himself. It is natural to expect that the miserable old man, having no other resource but contradiction, should give the lie to what he cannot disprove; it is as natural as that a puppy should yelp when kicked, and no more to be regarded.

I have some more of Mr W's certificates to show up his infamous manner of putting his patients under obligations never to tell of it, if harm is done them, makes it difficult to bring the proofs of his iniquity, but they shall be brought.

S. G. H.

Mr Editor—I saw in your paper this morning, a letter from me addressed to Mr Williams, and feel myself obliged to state by what means he obtained it. My brother feeling anxious, as all blind people do, to avoid himself of every possible means of regaining his sight, I was induced for his gratification, with but little confidence on my part, to accompany him to Mr Williams's room. He wished to know my motive in calling on Tuesday last; I informed I had come to ascertain if he would apply his medicine to my brother's eye—to which he replied, that if I would state in writing the cause of his blindness, the number of operations, &c., he then would determine upon what terms he would receive him. Accordingly, finding I could get his proposals in no other way, I wrote the note mentioned above, and called on him the following day. On meeting him at the door, he enquired if I had the letter; I replied I had; he wished to see it, and I gave it him—he then stated his terms, which were, five guineas per month for four months. I replied, that I had concluded if one month would be sufficient for him to prove whether his medicine would be beneficial, I would consent to his applying it. He then said, if I could not pay him for four months, pay for three; if not for three, for two. Seeing I was not inclined to comply, he said we had better leave for the present, consider of it, and inform him of the result of my consideration—but as I had already concluded the less I had to do with him the better, I felt unwilling to leave my note with him, thinking he might, as he has done, publish it for his own purposes. I therefore asked him for it, but he refused, saying, "It is addressed to me."

JOHN MURDOCK,
No. 50, Myrtle street.

To the Editor of the Boston Morning Post.

Sir—I beg you will inform the three worthy M.D.'s that if they have not the three original letters of their noble associates, Dr. Chastan of Marseilles, and Dr. Somebody, medical doctor to the prison—not to the walls—but to the innocent inmates of the prison, (to whom I alluded in my letter which appeared this morning,) together with my answers to two in print, and to the third, which I shall give them at the same time that I present it to the public—because the Garde National from being an associate with me, became an associate against me, and refused an insertion of my answer to one, assigning as a reason, that the expressions were too severe, but which will be done here by the Anti-Associates; but the whole of the above answers have been lying very quietly in one of my trunks since the month of July last—yet as they are fraught with the qualifications necessary to make it go down with the Associates, and their friends the Host of young aspirants, to obtain the same honors with their most noble Patrons. I will also accommodate them and the public with an exposure of a first edition of as noble specimens of falsehoods refuted, as are contained in either of my former letters. I was obliged to bring an action for a breach of confidence, against a new and young Associate, who acted as one of my Secretaries at Marseilles, before I could induce him to do his duty; but perhaps the history will prove very useful to me, (like that of Goliath II. of Boston, and the epistle from Goliath II. from the corner of Federal and Williams streets, and last, though not least, that from Dr Walker Booth, Ex-Metropolitan Episcopal Preacher for South Boston);—other elegant stepping-stones to enable me with all my answers, as I shall give them in plain English truth, to the lasting disgrace of Chastan and the prison Dr in America, as well as in Marseilles, i. e. if the answers are called for. If not, they like all the injuries they tried to do me, will be forgotten.

Like the baseless fabric of a vision,
Leaving not a trace behind."

The Goliaths make me more and more attached to my own Associates, the good and pious of every denomination of Christians who now begin to show themselves, and for their sakes I now promise the public not to leave this neighborhood till all my enemies become my friends, or, until they are seen fall before me; unless my friends, perceiving my life in danger, should let me down the city walls by night, in a basket, as was once done to save the life of Paul, I do not mean "Paul Pry" but St. Paul, after his enemies had threatened to "haul him over the coals" for doing good—speaking the truth and making religion a "stepping stone" to get, at last, where the associated Jews would cease to afflict him, and where the Associate pretended Christians will cease to vex.

Sir, Yours, &c.

JOHN WILLIAMS, Oculist.
Boston, Friday morning, March 11, 1836.

To the Editor of the Boston Morning Post.

Sir—I have just taken up your valuable paper; and having observed new productions from the society of the three lying prophets.

I will prove from his own words that it was impossible for a blind man to see me pour remedies from a bottle, and afterwards take it up by means of a spoon, (as stated by Howe) and also a lie, from the improbability of the case; and the whole, from the improbability of the residence of the gentleman, who, I am informed, keeps a soup cellar, with lodgings, sells herrings, sausages, and the like, for the refreshment of any weary travellers.

Thus, sir, my time will not permit me to speak further of the tissue of falsehoods contained in his own fabric, and that of the very respectable Mr Hart—to which I will here venture to assert, he caused Hart to put his name to his own precious document, in order to corroborate his own assertions, which I would be bound he would be forced to confess, if interrogated in a court of justice—neither do I think it necessary, as I imagine all who read them will perceive falsehood stamped in legible characters upon the face of both. I take the liberty to send you a letter I have received from a gentleman relative to a lady, aged 46 years, who has been blind almost from her birth.

I have the honour to be, Sir, Yours, &c.,
JOHN WILLIAMS, Oculist.

Boston March 11, 1836.

Boston, March 7, 1836.

To Dr Williams,

Sir—It is with great pleasure, I write this to inform you, that my cousin, Miss Tyler of Newburyport, discovers a change very extraordinary in her case. She was born in the year 1790, consequently is now 46 years of age, and has been blind from 2 or 3 days after her birth.

During her whole life, she has been considered incurable by all the physicians and Oculists of eminence, both of New York, Philadelphia, and of this country: therefore the change that has taken place in seven days induces us to hope, that perseverance for a few months will produce a proportionable benefit, which is our most ardent desire. With great gratitude to you on her behalf, as well as my own, I hasten to subscribe myself, your grateful servant,

ROBERT CLOUSTON,

No 1, Blossom street Court.

VEGETABLE EXTRACT.—This is the most valuable remedy yet discovered for the cure of Throat Distemper, or Malignant, Putrid, Ulcerated Sore throat—Scarlet Fever—Diphtheria—Canker Rash—Canker in the Mouth, Throat and Bowels—Diarrhea—Dysentery—Sore Mouth of Nursing Women—and the Aced Humors of Teething Children—in short, for almost all the affections of the Mucous Membrane of the Mouth, Throat and Alimentary Canal. These diseases are acknowledged by all Physicians to be of the most severe and obstinate character, and have long baffled their skill and research. The discovery, therefore, of an effectual remedy for them, particularly for the most dangerous of them, Scarlatina, must be considered by every true philanthropist as an invaluable desideratum. As a common and perfectly safe family medicine, it will be found of inestimable value in cases of common Sore Throats and Colds—disordered state of the Stomach and Bowels—such as habitual Costiveness—Indigestion—Flatulency—Nausea and Vomiting. Also, in cases of weakness arising from Fever and all debilitating diseases—such as Consumption, &c.—it will be found very beneficial as a cathartic and astringent, as it neither causes debility, nor does it, as is the case with the operation of most medicines, so readily dispose one to take cold.

The Vegetable Extract has now been some time before the public, and its great powers justly tested. Hundreds of individuals have successfully tried it, and several eminent Physicians are in the almost daily use of it in their practice, who are truly astonished at its great curative qualities, and are ready to give their testimony in favor of its efficiency and power. There now remains but one obstacle in the way of its very general use, and that is, the price. The proprietors, being desirous to obviate this difficulty, have therefore determined to reduce the price to 62½ cents per bottle, for one year, which barely remunerates for the great expense of preparing the article—this will bring it within the means of every person, so that no one need suffer for the want of it—and the poor may be able to obtain it for himself and family, as well as the rich.

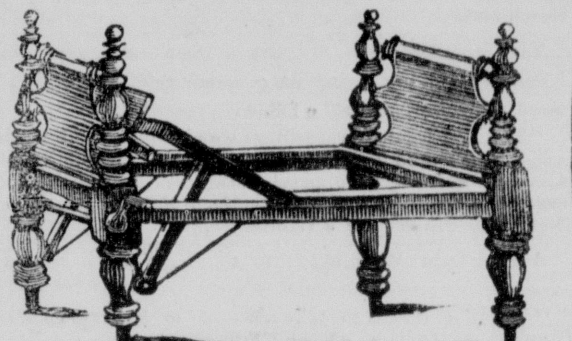

N. B. Should any one still feel scrupulous of what is here stated, relative to the Vegetable Extract, and will call on one of the proprietors, No 118 State street, Boston, besides the recommendations which will accompany each bottle, other abundant and most satisfactory evidence will be exhibited respecting it.

Prepared only by A. S. GRENVILLE, Cambridgeport, and for sale wholesale and retail, by one of the Proprietors and general Agent, RAULPH SMITH, No 108 State st. Boston.

Sold also, by Maynard & Noyes, 13 and 15 Cornhill—Brewer & Brothers, 90 Washington street—Pearson & Rowland, 128 Washington st.—C. Holbrook, 18 Leverett st.—E. S. Holden, corner of Chestnut and Charles sts.—J. P. Hall, Jr., 1 Union st.—William Brown, 441 Washington st.—James Fowler, corner of Greene and Leverett sts.—J. L. Moffatt, corner of Chamber and Poplar sts.—D. Henchman, 41 Cambridge st.—F. Plummer, 113 State st.—C. French, 181 Hanover st.—A. Boyden, 42 Hancock st.—R. A. Newell, corner of Summer and South sts.—J. P. Elliot, 81 Hanover st.—S. W. Fowle, 33 Prince st.—J. P. Whitwell, corner of Milk and Bath sts.—J. P. Preston, corner of Federal and William sts.—Joseph Kidder, 97 Court st.—I. Bacon, 40 Court street, W. C. Stimson & Co, 3 South side, Franklin Hall, Boston, S. 3. Where the reporter has reported in the case of the post mortem examination of the body of Mr Ames, that—
 "The unusual appearance of the stomach and abdomen might have been produced by certain irritating vegetable medicines taken in inordinate quantities, Thompson's 'hot drops' had been used in great profusion, and the character of the contents of the stomach, in such cases, their strong odor was perceptible in the stomach,"
 And assuming that the above named doctors made the above statement, this is therefore to challenge the above named doctors to prove their statement true, on condition that they shall receive a premium, if they succeed, from $1000 to $5000, if they fail, to be paid to the reporter, if he can produce an amount in case of failure. If they can produce proof that any of the articles of medicine prepared or sold by the undersigned, have ever produced such effects, the premium shall be paid to the undersigned, if he can produce proof to the contrary. There may be, and in all probability have been, articles bought at the shops, under the above name, that have produced such an effect; and this shows that people should be very careful in buying medicine, and not be deceived by the name. A new sonian medicine is sold at No 6 Congress Square, where the above doctors are invited to call to settle the arrangement in regard to the premium, with
 SAMUEL THOMPSON.

MAN'S GREATEST AND BEST EARTHLY

"TREASURE—HEALTH PRESERVED—OR LOST."
RESTORED—SEARS'S AMERICAN HYGIENE VEGETABLE
"STAYING PILLS," are now offered, for the benefit of the public, in the following form:—That, while the certificates of their efficacy and effects; and the references and testimony respecting his own reputation as a physician, will secure for them public confidence, and that, while the testimonials of the numerous persons, occasionally afflicted with various sufferings from Dyspepsia and a diseased liver for 30 years, during a considerable part of this period, it has been the object of anxious solicitude to discover some preparation of vegetable matter, which would be found to be more efficacious, than any I have here used. And, at the same time, especially in Materia Medica; and, among the vegetables of our country, I have succeeded in preparing a medicine, pure and simple, and, at the same time, so efficacious, as to be found to be an important and desirable object. Their effect is to excite and sustain a natural perspiration in the stomach and lary and to produce a large measure of relief in the most distressing and painful diseases of the human system; and also to remove physical obstructions, and promote the natural secretions of the liver. Being they are peculiarly efficacious in curing all diseases, originating from the state of the liver, such as indigestion, Costiveness, Jaundice, Nerveous and Phlegmatic, Hypochondria, Yellow and Bilious Jaundice, Chola Morbus, Cutaneous Eruptions, Erysipelas, &c. &c. &c. Source of the medicine is entirely natural, and their efficacy has been fully and abundantly proved by long and successful experience and that of many others. They may, with perfect safety, be taken by both sexes, at all ages, in cases of Indigestion, and in all the preceding diseases, and in all cases of offering them to combine, I pledge my reputation and character, that a perfect trial of their effects will satisfy them of their superior excellency. In regard to my reputation and character, I refer to the Hon. John Jay, Esq. of New York, and to the Hon. and the Rev Dr Spring, of New York; and I would present the two following certificates from the Hon John

Taylor, and the Hon. JAMES S. YOUNG, of Ballston Spa,
 "I testify that I have been well acquainted with William Sears, now of the village of Ballston Spa, for more than thirty years. He has through life maintained a fair reputation. His character was upright and integrity was his motto. I have never heard it impeached."
 JOHN W. TAYLOR.
 "I have known Mr. William Sears for more than thirty years. He has filled most of that time in the same town, with me, and during that period he has sustained a character with me as a man of integrity."
 S. YOUNG.

Extract from a certificate of Mr. James Constock, editor of the Ballston Spa Gazette:—"For several years past Mrs. Con-stock has been afflicted with an unusually obstinate Dyspepsia, and has suffered great distress in the stomach, and the redundancy of blood in the venous system of the head."
 A. H. V. Renovating Pills, and has experienced more that from them than she has ever received from any medicine, with confidence recommended by JAS. COMSTOCK."

Extract from a certificate of Mrs. Powell, wife of the Hon. J. B. Powell, of Saratoga county: "For many years past I have suffered from the symptoms of a very bad cold, which has frequently been attended with a pain in my side, severe as to confine me. About three months since I commenced taking Sars' A. B. V. Renovating Pills, which have cured me of the complaint, and rendered me able to resume my medicine. I do highly esteem them, and recommend them to all who are afflicted as I have been, with a liver complaint." ANN POWELL.

It is therefore one of the best recommendations which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

A few years since, from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. During that time, I suffered very much from mental depression, con-into the field and forest, and side, sharp shooting pains in the back, the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain and fevered with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for several days. I was told by a friend that I should try the Vegetable as induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and in a short time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the trouble. I was, however, still feeling at any time like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a tablespoon of it, which, in the course of a few days, completely restored me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in that it has not only cured me of indigestion, but has regulated the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, and has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most intense headache.
